Dear Chief Justice Stephen Gageler AC
Richard Glenn Chief Executive
Principal Registrar High Court Of Australia

Respectfully,

Regarding The Australian Federal Police, Constitutional Writs Etc by me to be lodged "Within 2 Weeks"

This matter is enormous hence the following have been carbon copied in, I want The Australian Community & International Community to keep up to date with this entire process and all events.

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF AUSTRALIA, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL, THE SOLICITOR GENERAL HAS BEEN CARBON COPIED IN.

The Current Prime Minister & 3 Former Prime Ministers All Carbon Copied In of Australia.

Interpol, Europol & Other Organisations Carbon Copied In Global News Carbon Copied In.

Dfat, The Melbourne Airport, Magistrates Association, International Bar Association, British Institute of International & Comparative Law, New York State Bar Association, American Bar Association

The Court has been well informed on all matters.

In Addition this is to inform you I will be lodging applications within 2 weeks against The Australian Federal Police, Reece Kershaw and his successor Krissy Barrett. All of which are overdue for a reckoning "Settling of accounts" by means of damages awarded to me, criminal charges against them its a major list all of which will be in my applications you see when you have this sort of actions from right at the top it impacts on the entire force. I mean "Working In Concert With Criminals & More"

Corruption within law enforcement—especially within a national agency like the Australian Federal Police (AFP)—can have extremely serious and far-reaching impacts. When officers or officials work in concert with criminals, the damage extends beyond individual cases, undermining public trust, justice, and national security. Below is a detailed breakdown of the impacts such corruption can have.

1. Erosion of Public Trust and Legitimacy

- Loss of confidence in law enforcement: Citizens begin to doubt that justice is applied fairly or that the police serve the public good.
 - Undermined rule of law: When police collude with criminals, the law itself appears corruptible, weakening democratic governance.
 - Reduced cooperation: People become less willing to report crimes or assist investigations, further weakening policing effectiveness.

2. Compromise of Investigations and Justice

- Leaking of confidential information: Corrupt officers may tip off criminal groups about investigations, raids, or witnesses.
 - Tampering with evidence or cases: This can lead to wrongful acquittals or wrongful convictions, obstructing justice.
 - Protection of organized crime: Syndicates gain impunity, allowing them to expand drug trafficking, money laundering, or human trafficking operations.

3. National Security Risks

- The AFP plays a central role in counterterrorism, cybercrime, and transnational crime. Corruption within these areas could expose Australia to serious risks:
 - Compromised intelligence and operations.

- Manipulation of border security and customs enforcement.
 - Infiltration of government and corporate networks by criminal or foreign actors.

4. Economic and Social Costs

- Economic losses: Fraud, tax evasion, and illicit trade flourish when enforcement is compromised.
 - Social inequality: Corruption allows wealthy or powerful criminals to evade accountability while ordinary citizens face the full weight of the law.
 - Public spending diversion: Resources are wasted investigating, cleaning up, or compensating for corrupt practices.

5. Institutional Decay and Moral Corrosion

- Internal morale issues: Honest officers become demoralized, alienated, or fearful of whistleblowing.
 - Culture of impunity: Once corruption becomes normalized, it perpetuates itself through intimidation and complicity.
 - Breakdown of oversight mechanisms: Integrity agencies can be undermined if corruption spreads or if political will to address it is weak.

6. International Reputation and Cooperation

- Diplomatic fallout: Partner nations may reduce intelligence sharing or cooperative operations.
- Loss of credibility in international policing bodies: The AFP's standing within Interpol or global task forces could suffer.
- Foreign investment risks: Perceived corruption deters investment and damages Australia's reputation as a rule-of-law nation.

All at The Expense of The Australian Public, Australia, Australia's International Allies "The Right Ones" & The Australian Taxpayer.

Applications followed by Affidavits to follow in 2 weeks.

Sincerely,

Gerrard Tate
